NATIONAL DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

FOR PRESIDENT. SAMUEL J. TILDEN. Of New York. FOR VICE-PRESIDENT, THOMAS A. HENDRICKS,

Of Indiana. FOR GOVERNOR JAMES D. PORTER, Of Henry, FOR CONGRESS

> CASEY YOUNG, Of Shelby,

A COLORED STATESMAN. We sincerely believe that a new era of harmony and reciprocal confidence and friendship throughout the south is dawning, and that race antagonism will soon be obliterated. We have long year-three southern-Alabams, Arhoped that some towering statesman would rise up from the colored people ern-Oregon, Connecticut, New Hampwho had the patriotism and ability to shire, lead his race out of the wilderness of and Maine. With the result the trouble in which they have been blindly groping. That colored Moses seems to have been found in the person of Rev. J. W. Durjee, of Richmond, Virginia. He has addressed a letter to his colored Republican by greatly reduced majorifriends throughout the south, from ties, and Oregon, Connecticut, Alabama, which we publish an extract in another Arkansas and Kentucky have gone heretofore been conspicuously before the jorities. Taking the official figures of public, which is to be regretted both by all these States, save those of Maine not the whitee and blacks. His views should yet supplied, we find them to stand be read by every southern negro, and thus: the whites of Mississippi should give them an extended circulation. Democratic speakers can render their party no greater service than by reading Dunjee's letter from the stump. He shows that the four million of blacks and the eight million of whites in the south must harmonize if they would promote the moral, intellectual and physical well-being of both races. With great force Mr. Dunjee asks why it is that the negro so implicitly trusts the whites in everything else, and then mistrusts them in politics. If the negro voter or his family gets sick, they rush frantically to the whites; in all their domestic troubles they ignore the carpetbaggers and the Radical officeseekers, and heed with unbounded confidence the advice of the white people with whom they were raised, and who she certainly will in November next. still give them employment and minister to their wants in sickness. But, on the day of the election, they spurn the advice of the whites, and seem to take a malicious delight in hurling themselves against the friends to whom they look for consolation and counsel. The blacks profit by the opinions of the whites in all that concerns their personal and material interests, but since the day they were invested with the right of suffrage they have in political matters followed the lead of strangers, and turned their backs upon those alone who are and always must be their natural allies, not only in pecuniary matters, but in politics, which affects the interest of both alike. In appealing to the colored people, the Mobile Register says: "You have every legal right that we have. Then where is the foundation for the thought that the blacks must, in self-interest, unite against the whites at the ballot-box? Where is the reason in this? It is nowhere, save in the shallow brains and upon the lying tongues of the contemptible scalawags and carpetbaggers, who know that their only way to ride into office is upon the broad backs of the colored voters, whom they harness together for the purpose, and whose lash is laid upon you that they might fatten and become bloated in their lust after power. But we hope that the day of your deliverance is at hand. Already, throughout the south, hundreds of colored men are with us, and there is promise that hundreds more will come. The 7th, is assured, as well as a sweeping political integrity of the republic is the issue, and the prosperity of the south is Hayes and Wheeler. at stake. The colored people are interested in the success of the great reform and corruption." ORGANIZE: CLOSE UP THE RANKS Now that we have a full ticket in the field, for all the offices to be filled at the November election, let us close up our ranks and march to victory, Our friends everywhere should go to work quietly, resclutely and with unfaltering courage. Democrats have a plain duty before them. We must not fall into the error of indulging a fatal and overweening confidence. We must not fold our arms in spathy, but go to work with all our spirit, for we live in troubled times, and forces are at work which no man can accounted pressure. A good ticket has accurately measure. A good ticket has been presented to the people, and now it is our duty to elect it. Personal preferences are to be no longer considered. The majority has spoken in convention, and it becomes the minority to gracefully yield and to fellow in the assault which they proposed to lead. It is natural that those who failed in obtaining the men of their choice should feel a disappointment, but everybody could not be accommodated, and there is no good reason for dissatisfaction. Fight for your man as long as the question is open, but when the selection has been open, but when the selection has been and other Domestic Animals, and other Domes
